Fall 2018 Elections Report

Alexandra Anderson, Fall Elections Committee Chair

N. Tharney, Fall Elections Appeals Chair

Laura Christiansen, Advisor

Introduction: The Fall elections committee is charged with running the Fall elections successfully. The chair of the committee endeavored to define success as recruitment of promising potential new member to RUSA and continuing the legitimacy of student government through our elections. Members of the committee were approved by President Suzanne Link. Chairperson Alex Anderson was chosen as Fall Elections Committee Chair, following the rules in the Election Code, stating that the Internal Affairs Chair shall hold the position. General committee members were Ryed Jadun, Tilak Bhatnagar, Navruz Baum and Amir Jamal. These individuals were chosen because they were a part of other organizations that send representatives to RUSA.

The committee was formed at the very beginning of the semester. Dates were set for Declaration of Intent to Run, Information Sessions, Election Period, and Swearing In. Please see below.

The deadlines were established in accordance with the Elections Code. New deadlines were added to accommodate the Permanent Resolution to file Budget Reports and Fundraising procedures. The budgeting process was amended in order to elucidate the process. A model table was distributed to candidates with clear instructions. The Chair was very responsive to questions and answered all questions. All candidates/tickets were required to fill them out, even if they did not incur donations or expenses. Please see Appendix One for the Legislation. These rules were established as Temporary and Permanent Legislation. These rules expand on regulations set in the previous year's elections, under the authority of the RUSA Elections Code. Please review Fall 2017 and Spring 2018 Election reports to see changes made over time.

Summary: This election cycle, 48 people filled out the Declaration of Intent. 47 were eligible. Around 7 people dropped from the process between Declaration of Intent period and the Seating In. There were 35 positions available. Please see Appendix B for specific positions available.

There were several vacancies and positions with no candidates as a result. These were Douglass and Cook at Large positions, and a couple of Class positions on a few campuses.

One ticket, Unscrew RU, was formed. The candidates on that ticket were more successful than students who were not on a ticket. Over 900 students voted for a total of over 1,100 votes cast. This is approximately equivalent to 20% of first years living on campus. This engagement is down by half compared to last year.

Several positions, like Livingston 2022 and Busch 2022, had a large number of candidates. The corresponding At-Large positions did not have enough people running to fill vacancies. The elections committee decided to send the people in these categories' emails encouraging them to switch positions in order to elect people to available positions. This was successful on Livingston. Please see Appendix Two for these emails.

Reflections: The turnout for this election was down since the previous Fall elections in 2017. The election committee recommends future election committees to work early on to PR the elections and find the relevant student networking spaces, in person and online, to maximize students running in the election and voting in the election. Many election information sessions were very helpful to the students who came, and encouraging more people to attend should be a priority. Also, the IA committee should look into making and investigation into distribution of students to representatives. This cycle, Douglass positions were not filled, and 20 people voted on that campus. Whereas, Off Campus Representatives received two and a half times the number of votes and did not receive a position.

Post Election: There were no appeals during this election cycle. Nicholas Tharney, the RUSA Parliamentarian, was the chair of the committee. Alexandra Lily and Mark Nietzsche were members. Members were sworn in the next week. Directions and guidance in filling empty positions were given to newly elected Campus Chairs.

Appendix E- Email Regarding Switching Positions

Hello Candidate,

Thank you for filling out the Declaration of Intent to Run! You are eligible to run in the election and are able to continue your campaign. Please refer to the Elections Code, and all Temporary and Permanent regulations of the Election Committee at rusa-ia.us under the Elections Committee tab. The voting period is between October 2nd and October 3rd, from midnight to midnight, for exactly 48hs.

I wanted to give you the opportunity to switch from the 2022 Campus Representative to the At-Large position for your campus. The only difference between these positions is who you will be representing: all students on a campus vs all freshmen on a campus. We have a lot of people running for the 2022 positions, and there are several At-Large positions without any candidates. The Elections Committee is in no way guaranteeing a win for the At-Large position of you switch. But, you will have significantly better chances at receiving a position in the Assembly by switching. This is merely advice, and you are not required to switch the position you are running for.

Please respond to this email if you would like to switch to At-Large by 10 pm on Friday the 28th. If you do not want to switch, and stay as a candidate for a 2022 position, you do not need to reply to this email. If you do not reply, you will be maintained as a 2022 campus candidate.

If you have any questions, please let me know. If you would like to file an appeal about the elections and campaigning, please email parliamentarian.rusa@gmail.com.

Thank you,
Alex Anderson

Hello Fellow Students,

I am reaching out to you today, calling you to serve in student government, and advocate for improvements to the university. As the student government of Rutgers University, we identify resources, improve resources, and create new resources for students. If you are interested in making a difference during your time here, run in our fall elections. I know running for RUSA was the best choice I have made at Rutgers. I have learned so much and met so many like-minded friends. To run, you will have to fill out a declaration of intent to run to verify eligibility for campus positions. It is open now to 9/22 at midnight at the end of the day, at <https://rutgers.campuslabs.com/engage/submitter/form/start/224146>

We will be having one more information session,
Thursday September 20 6 pm Student Activities Center Lounge

Please come and learn about the expectations of a RUSA member and the rules of the elections. You will also receive tips on how to run a successful campaign and oreos. The voting period will be all day October 2nd and 3rd, for 48 hours, and unofficial results will be announced October 4th. Members are expected to attend the full off-campus retreat October 12 to October 14. If you have any questions about the election or the process to run, please e-mail rusa.elections@gmail.com and visit <http://rusa-ia.us/election-committee-resolutions/>.
